

Advertising Sales

Apply your sales experience in a career in advertising sales.

In this role, you will sell online advertising using sales techniques learned in our extensive training program. You will be calling on C-level executives and marketing professionals in the life science or IT industries to sell B2B advertising.

The ideal candidate will have five+ years of successful sales experience, demonstrate a proven closing ability, and exemplify high character.

VertMarkets will provide ongoing training to help you grow both personally and professionally. Opportunities exist for future advancement into manager or trainer roles.

Because we value the contributions that our employees make every day, VertMarkets rewards our sales employees with a generous base salary plus commissions and bonuses. Our premium benefits package includes:

- 13 company-paid holidays
- 16 – 21 paid vacation/personal days during your first year
- Medical/dental/vision coverage for you and your immediate family
- 401(k) with 100% company match up to 6%
- Ongoing training and support from an internal coaching team
- Short- and long-term disability insurance
- Life insurance
- Paid overtime for all positions
